The Lighted Window

The Lighted Window has always stood for a welcome within.

It calls the traveler to the end and object of his journey.

Your window stands ready to speak YOUR welcome to a thousand travelers.

But it, too, must be lighted—not only with the brilliance of Electricity but with the brighter light of proffered service and temptingly displayed wares.

Every displayed article, every curve of drapery, every carefully worded card is a ray of light to questioning eyes and hesitating minds.

The most important function of a window display is to enlighten the public as to its needs — and to make that light so bright and attractive that people will follow its guidance and come to your door.

Make your store known and sought from far and wide by the constant call of a LIGHTED WINDOW.
